She provides coaching, mentoring and resilience building training through her consultancy business Headway Learning and Development Ltd. She is knowledgeable and experienced in leadership, coaching, partnership working and governance. For over ten years she has served in various roles as trustee and non-executive director. Dora was Chair of a Manchester based Housing Association for five years, until her retirement in April 2016. In that time she led the modernisation of the organisation with a focus on partnerships, excellence, learning and innovation underpinned by strong governance. Currently Dora is involved with several organisations operating within Greater Manchester; serving in advisory and strategic capacities; including Collaborative Women Uk, Limelight Management Committee and GMCVO board. Optimistic in her outlook and passionate about enabling people to grow and fulfil their ambitions; she is excited to be joining the governing body at Dean Trust Ardwick.
 Suzanne Finlay	Ex-Officio	Suzanne started her career over 30 years ago as a primary school teacher in Beswick in my home city of Manchester. She was in primary education for nine years before moving to the secondary sector and has worked in six different Local Authorities in the North West before returning to Manchester to take up this post. After making the hard decision to move into secondary education, Suzanne worked for eight years as a Head of Music in an inner city Liverpool comprehensive school. During her time there she was also Head of Year and Head of Sixth Form, from which she was appointed Assistant Headteacher at St John Plessington Catholic College on the Wirral, where she contributed to two consecutive outstanding Ofsted inspections. It was at this school that she learned how to be an effective senior leader and gained her NPQH. Suzanne was responsible for a variety of areas, but her main interest and skill lay in pastoral care and behaviour. She was seconded as Deputy Headteacher to support a school in St Helens, from which she was appointed Deputy Headteacher at Lymm High School. All Suzanne's experience has provided her with the confidence and skills to take on this unique role of building a school from scratch. She enjoys seeing the school grow in strength, building relationships with pupils, staff, parents, the community and the Trust. Now at the culmination of her career, as Headteacher she can confidently put her own 'stamp' on a school by developing the culture and ethos and setting the standards she strongly believes in and know to be right for this school. Suzanne has a sharp eye for detail, and a determination to see things through to successful completion. She has learned resilience, and works with the energy and commitment that she expects from staff and pupils. Suzanne believes in honesty and openness, and is loyal to her staff, pupils, parents and the Trust. It is Suzanne's wealth of experience that enables her to establish firm foundations for Dean Trust Ardwick's future as a successful school.

Joanne Hyde

Community

Dedicating her whole career to date to the public sector, Joanne started out on the Youth Training Scheme (YTS) at Manchester City Council and undertook a number of roles, whilst there, moving then into a career in HR where she went on to undertake a number of significant senior roles within the organisation. A particular highlight in her career at the City Council was her role as a key member of the team that delivered the 2002 Commonwealth Games in Manchester.

She joined Trafford Council in 2010 as Deputy Director of Human Resources, securing the Director role a short time later and has since progressed to Corporate Director for Resources with responsibility for corporate and back office services including Human Resources, Finance, Legal, Democratic Services, HR, ICT, Corporate Communications, Communities and Partnerships, Customer Services, Libraries, Traded Services and Transformation.

In addition to her role, Joanne was a driving force behind the creation and formation of both the Trafford Leisure Company, a newly formed Community Interest Company (CIC) managing Leisure Services, and on the Trafford Youth Trust, again another newly formed CIC to drive and manage youth provision in Trafford working alongside major partners including Lancashire County Cricket Club and Manchester United Foundation. She is now an active member on the Boards of both as an Executive Director.

Since 2013, Joanne has also chaired the Board of the North West PPMA Group.

Joanne lives in Greater Manchester with her husband, three children and dog. She enjoys spending time with her family and has, in recent years, taken up triathlons which she regularly takes part in competitively.

Stephanie Jenkins

Community

Stephanie is a biomedical scientist by profession and has spent the majority of her career working in acute hospitals across Greater Manchester. As a senior NHS manager she has a wide experience and expertise in governance, operational, performance and financial management. Her main focus has been the provision of outstanding, quality, patient centred care, delivered to the highest of standards.

Stephanie has a Ph.D. From The University of Manchester and is a Fellow of The Institute of Biomedical Science. As a trained mentor she is particularly passionate about promoting STEM subjects and is keen to encourage and aspire pupils to go to university and seek careers with a STEM background.

Stephanie feels privileged to be part of the governing body at Dean Trust Ardwick and is looking forward to being the governor lead for SMSC.

Helen Li

Community

Helen joined the Governing Body of The Dean Trust in academic year 2016/17, as a community representative for the secondary school in the Ardwick area of Manchester. As well as contributing to committee business and ongoing policy, she forms part of a working group with a number of other governors that review the Dean Trust Ardwick curriculum. For this, Helen draws on her experience of course planning and academic review across the university and college sectors.

From her current leadership role in student affairs and education management, Helen also ensures that the Trust is fully committed to the safeguarding of pupils, along with their transition as learners into school and then successfully beyond into society.

Helen devotes much time to her own continuous professional enhancement, and so is a strong advocate of the Trust encouraging pupils to have self-belief, to progress intellectually and socially, as well as for them to succeed personally in their further development.

Helen Milner

Staff

Helen Milner is a Mathematics teacher who has worked at Dean Trust Ardwick since it opened in September 2015. Prior to that she has taught mathematics at other schools for 14 years, and has held the posts of Second, and Head of Department during those years. She became a staff Governor in Autumn 2016.

Prior to teaching Helen ran a small business but gave that up and at 38 moved to Manchester from Cumbria to go to The University Of Manchester where she gained a BSc (Hons) in Mathematics.

Helen is married to Alec, and they have 6 grown up children and 7 grandchildren

Dave Palmer

Community

Dave Palmer – Dave is a former chartered insurance practitioner and was the Managing Director of an Insurance Brokerage firm. Now retired, Dave is an active volunteer currently supporting the British Red Cross Destitution Project as a caseworker for serving refugees in Greater Manchester.

An active school governor Dave has been a member of the governing body at Ashton on Mersey School on and off since 1993. Following his early retirement in 2005 he spent a number of years volunteering with the Voluntary Service Overseas, advising non governmental organisations on various matters including organisation and business skills.

A father of three, keen footballer and golfer, Dave is also a committee member of Maine Road FC.

Alison Saunders

Parent

Alison is a born and bred Mancunian. As an ex pupil of Plymouth Grove Primary school, Alison struggled with school life until she found her passion in Drama at Levenshulme High School. This helped her to successfully navigate friendship groups and address low self-esteem in high school, and in her studies at Loretto College. Learning to express herself gave Alison a good grounding for her later work as a Teaching Assistant in Early Years. Her first-hand experience of teenage issues has meant she is well placed in her work as a Mental Health Support worker, which she thoroughly enjoys.

With four siblings, three daughters and one granddaughter, Alison enjoys a very busy family life. In addition, she enjoys giving back to her community and does so by volunteering in projects such as 'Stay and Play', 'Wake Up, Shake Up', Boxercise and keep fit classes, as well as other outreach ventures.

Alison's varied experiences have taught her much about cultural diversity that it has given her the confidence to develop her vibrant and proactive work within her childhood community. She is delighted to have been elected as the new Parent Governor for Dean Trust Ardwick and is keen to help grow the school and the wider community of Ardwick.

Niki Taylor

Staff

Niki has worked at Dean Trust Ardwick since 2016. She is currently Safeguarding Deputy Lead alongside Pupil Support Manager.

Niki was a foster carer for 10 years for her local authority and also helped to deliver 'skills to foster' course to newly qualified foster carers.

Niki brings over 13 years of experience being on the committee for Manchester City Ladies Football Club, initially as fund raising coordinator, then liaison officer, safeguarding officer and finally vice chairperson.

Niki has been married for nearly 25 years and has 3 children and 2 Labrador puppies.

Niki is passionate about her role in school and helping young people to improve their life skills and opportunities alongside helping them to overcome barriers to learning.

Dean Warren

Community

Outside of school, Dean is an Associate Director at an international technology consultancy. He has 27 years experience as a management consultant and technologist, helping his customers to reduce cost and increase quality and gain a competitive edge through better control of their data. His customers mainly include Banks and other Financial Institutions but he has spent time working with smaller companies and has also been the operations manager at a startup company.

At home he is a father of two children and was previously a governor at his local primary school. His core values are rooted in his love for his family and a desire to see them succeed.

Andy Wilson

Community

Andy has extensive experience working in housing and regeneration in local government and in the social housing sector, mainly in inner city locations. More recently he has led major regeneration programmes in Moss Side, Hulme, Wythenshawe, and Ardwick.

He has served as a director on the Board of Eastlands Homes, overseeing investment and management of over 9000 homes in East Manchester.

In the education sector he has experience as a governor on an IEB at a high school in south Manchester. He has a particular interest in ensuring that young people at DTA realise their full potential and play a successful role in Manchester's future.
